

PEDAGOGICAL DELIVERY AND STUDENT ENGAGEMENT STUDY

Recent longitudinal studies into hybrid learning environments emphasize adaptive instructional scaffolding.

Diagnostic assessments conducted in secondary educational tiers demonstrate significant variance in literacy and STEM readiness following remote transitions.

Recommendations emphasize smaller mentor-to-student cohorts, interactive flipped classroom exercises, and standardized rubric recalibration.